Comments from External Reviewer

❖ Evaluation (Please evaluate the manuscript by grade 1-5)
5=Excellent 4=Good 3=Average 2=Below Average 1=Poor
Items		Grade
Contribution to existing knowledge		5
Organization and Readability		4
Soundness of methodology		5
Evidence supports conclusion		5
Adequacy of literature review		5
❖ Strengths
Comprehensive review of literature; contributes significantly to the body of knowledge; uses correct methodology and measurements.
❖ Weaknesses
Small sample size; which you have addressed in your limitations!
❖ Suggestions to Author/s
Thank you for conducting this important study, and for considering our journal for publications; please accept the following suggestions:
In line 33, you mentioned "the research hypothesis to be proven is" which I believe you meant is "to be tested/examined"!!
Table-1 should present the characteristics of the sample in frequencies and percentages; instead, you presented the result of the QOL!! Which you have them already in table-2. Table-1 should tell the readers the number of children in each characteristic; example, gender: how many males vs. females.
Table-3 is very confusing in the way it presents the results of the correlation!! PLEASE follow/adhere to the APA style or a like on how to present results using tables.
Please make correction (authors' names) on references list for this citation: P., S., A., F., & D.L., T. (2013). Challenges in diabetes management in Indonesia: A literature review. Globalization and Health , 9(1), 1-17. https://doi.org/10.1186/1744-8603-9-63
